

Recycling Services

Recycling Services, Inc., a leader in providing recycling for office buildings in and around Chicago, was looking for ways to encourage better compliance from their buildings' tenants. They called on Brainforest to help punch up their educational building events. By utilizing eye-popping banners, informative handouts and sustainability trivia games, Recycling Services was able to better engage and, therefore, better educate building tenants on proper recycling habits as well as the environmental benefits of recycling.

With Brainforest and Recycling Services' proven commitment to sustainable business models, the partnership was a great success.
